Virus Lab

Instructions:

The instructor will pass out pieces of paper. The person who receives the piece of paper with a V on it has the virus and should not let anyone else know about it.

During each time period, everyone shakes hands with one other person, preferable a person you did not shake hands with before.

If you have the virus, you give it to some else by an extra squeeze during the handshake. If you do not have the virus, just shake hands normally.

After you get the virus you will always give it to anyone you shake hands with. Remember in which time period you first caught the virus.
